

The Senior Housing Crime Prevention Foundation (SHCPF) is a national non-profit organization that operates as a risk-free, profitable conduit for banks to fulfill their federally mandated Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) requirements. The Foundation's mission is to provide safe, secure living environments by reducing crime for our nation's senior housing residents through sponsorship of the Senior Crimestoppers program. This allows banks to serve an underserved segment of society who are classified as a low-to-moderate income group while providing crime prevention programs that promote a higher quality of life for those who are the most vulnerable.

Crime against the elderly in our society is a longstanding, constant battle that can be reduced and prevented through the operation of the Senior Crimestoppers program in nursing homes and assisted living facilities. Senior Crimestoppers has a zero tolerance-to-crime platform and uses personal lockboxes for the residents, cash rewards paid anonymously for information about any crime incident, and effective, on-going education to accomplish its results. The program currently operates in over 4,000 nursing home facilities in 45 states and has reduced all aspects of crime by a certified 92.55% through March 31, 2009.
