MEGHAN BEST NAMED CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER OF NORTH CAROLINA BANKERS ASSOCIATION

RALEIGH, N.C. – Thad Woodard, President & CEO of the North Carolina Bankers Association (NCBA), has announced that Meghan Best has been named Chief Financial Officer, effective April 1.

“Meghan inspires us all with knowledge of the law, her deep interest in the banking industry, and her love for every corner of North Carolina,” said Woodard.

A Mount Olive native, Best was hired by the North Carolina Bankers Association in 2011 as associate counsel. She received her undergraduate degree in accounting with a concentration in financial analysis from North Carolina State University and her law degree from Campbell University. While pursuing her undergraduate degree, she worked during the summers for Southern Bank & Trust Co. Meghan is an avid traveler and enjoys spending time with her husband Will.

The North Carolina Bankers Association brings together all categories of banking institutions that best represent the interests of our rapidly changing state. The state’s banks have provided support to their communities since 1864. Look for a current listing at www.ncba.com.
